Mrs. J. R. Bond, of Oklahoma City, has preferred charges of improper conduct against Senator Thor. P. Gore, which the papers are handling in a vague sort of way, but Washington is agog with the scandal. As Senator Gore is totally blind, the joke seems to be on the lady in the case, who ought to have been able to hold her own with a blind man.

Luis Manuel Rojas, a Mexican Congressman, has filed in formal charges against Minister Henry Lane Wilson, accusing him of winking at the assassination of President Madero and Vice President Saurez. He of course denies it, but many people believe Rojas is telling the truth. President Wilson should lose no time in firing his namesake.

The Louisiana Democrats refused to accept President Wilson's compromise on the sugar schedule and are going to have to take a bitter pill sugar coated. The tariff policy of a great party cannot be changed to suit two or three Protectionist Democrats in Congress.

Miss Zelle P. Emerson, of Jackson, Mich., with an income of $10,000 a year, who became a chambermaid in a hotel to learn of the life of a working woman and later went to England to become a suffragette, is now serving a term in the Halloway jail.

Congressman Thomas has endorsed Jas. M. Richardson, at Glasgow; C. Griffith, at Russellville, and S. Book, at Smith's Grove, for post-office vacancies in his district and early appointments are expected.

Senator James will lose no time in endorsing five applicants for the Kentucky collectorships and one for surveyor at Louisville and the appointments are expected to be made this week.

Former Governor Beckham was in Washington last week pressing the claims of some candidates for office who are not endorsed by Senator James. He saw the President Friday.

WILSON WILL READ MESSAGE

President to Violate Traditions of Country in Going to the Capitol.

WILL CONTINUE THIS POLICY

Expects to Be in Frequent Consultation With Congressmen on The Floor.

Washington, April 7 — Sitting aside precedents of more than a century, President Wilson will appear in the halls of congress today to deliver his first legislative message in person. He announced to democratic congressional leaders that he would go to the floor of the house when it convened today and there give that body his views on the tariff.

This decision of the president evoked much comment among the congressional leaders. He will be the first president of the United States to appear officially before either branch of congress in deliberative session since John Adams in the first few years of the last century. An attempt was made exactly 100 years ago, in 1813, to revive the custom, but President Madison declined an invitation to discuss foreign relations in the senate. Since then no president has ever suggested joining in the deliberations of congress. The senate has already organized for the new congress and its session will be a mere routine meeting. Immediately afterward, however, a democratic caucus will be held, when the fight to revise the senate rules, to liberalize the proceedings in the upper body will begin.

When the house convened in its changed chamber, where benches have taken the place of the old time desks and chairs, the members, including hundreds of representatives elected last fall, were sworn in. Clerk South Trimble was the presiding officer until the seats had been filled and a speaker elected.

The democrats following their caucus decision nominated and re-elected Speaker Champ Clark. The republicans nominated Rep. Mann of Illinois; the progressives, the new party organization in the house nominated Rep. Murdock of Kansas.

ALL THINGS FAIR

In Love, Thought Crofton Couple, Who Skipped to Clarksville.

The Clarksville Leaf-Chronicle of last Thursday contained a well written article about the marriage of Miss Sybil Lovan and Mr. Otho Wilson at Clarksville Thursday. On Wednesday night the young lady climbed out of a window and met her intended and they reached Clarksville Thursday morning about four o'clock. They soon found a justice of the peace and returned to Kentucky man and wife.

FISH TO BE HAD

For the Gathering When Swallow Spring is Drained.

It is believed that when Swallow Spring is drained everybody can get all the fish he wants. It will be remembered that when the water receded last summer immense quantities of choice large fish were taken out of the hole, where the water had become so low that there was not enough for them to have lived much longer. It was reported then that the ground was covered about the spring with fish that had been thrown away by different parties.

MAN KILLED BY WOMAN

Life Snuffed Out By Single Shot Which Struck in Victim's Head.

WOMAN ARRESTED, IN JAIL

Woman's Father Was Killed by Convict in the Penitentiary.

There was a tragedy in the neighborhood of Bell, this county, last Saturday night. The principals were both colored, named Daisy Kendrick, a woman, and Willie Radford. The latter was shot in the head and he died instantly. The woman fired three shots, two of them burying themselves in the wall, the third one in Radford's head.

After the killing, the woman, who lives with Mr. John W. Garnett, went to Mr. Garnett, it is said, and told him she had "killed her a man." The real cause of the killing is not yet known and will probably not until the woman is put on trial. One of the arresting officers said yesterday that all that was known as to what induced the woman to kill Radford was that she said Radford followed her to her home against her earnest protest, entered the house and took his seat.

The killing occurred about 7 o'clock. Sheriff Johnson was notified by phone and deputies Johnson and Smith made a quick trip to the farm of Mr. Garnett and arrested the woman and brought her to the city and placed her in jail pending her examining trial before the County Judge.

Frank Kendrick, the father of Daisy Kendrick, was killed by another negro, Bennie Heron, who is serving a term in the Eddyville penitentiary, having been sent up nearly two years ago.

Daisy Kendrick was arraigned before Judge Walter Knight yesterday and she was held over to the next grand jury in a bond of $750.

Mr. Garnett signed the bond and the woman was released.

FLOOD SUFFERS

Were Remembered By the Pastors Sunday.

The attendance of the churches Sunday was a little larger than at any time since the fulfillment of the prophecy of the ground hog. It being the first Sunday in the new quarter the sacrament of the Lord's Supper was administered at most of the churches.

At all of the churches the pastors made earnest calls on the people to remember the sufferers from the flood and to help them by contributions.

OLD BONDS TO BE PAID.

Council Will Levy Tax To Take Up Outlawed Debt.

STREETS TO BE SPRINKLED.

White Way Propostion Not Acted Upon.—Would Be Expensive.

The Council met Friday night in regular session and a good deal of business was transacted. The usual department reports were received and filed.

Dr. J. W. Harned was allowed $112 for services in handling two smallpox cases in February.

The budget of accounts amounting to $1,113.31 was allowed.

A petition from citizens presented by Mr. John H. Bell asked that the city appropriate $750 to pay half the estimated cost of sprinkling certain streets in the business section for thirty weeks. After discussion, a motion was made and carried that the city would do the sprinkling under contract with its own sprinkler when the $750 to be paid by the citizens was raised, the city bearing the additional expense. The action was accepted as satisfactory and Mr. Bell agreed to collect the subscriptions.

It was also ordered that oil would be ordered and spread on any streets the citizens desired oiled, but only when entire expense was borne by citizens and the money paid over in advance, the city to furnish no part of the oil.

Street work was ordered on West 15th street, Cedar street and other streets.

The Council was asked to assume a cost of $2,500 for 60 white way lights on Main and 9th streets, to be lighted till 10:30 p. m. Action was postponed.

The Council by unanimous vote agreed to make a levy in June to take up the outlawed bonds of Dr. E. S. Stuart, $600 of bonds and $525 of coupons, payable Dec. 1. These bonds were lost and not found until 18 years after they had been called in. The Council will take them up as a moral obligation, as they have no legal value.

The bond of Delinquent Tax Collector J. D. Higgins was approved for $2,500.

Several street ordinances were given their first passage.

The Council adjourned till Monday night.

W. T. TANDY

The New President of the Athenaeum—Banquet May 8.

The Athenaeum met Thursday night with two excellent papers. Col. Jouett Henry wrote on "Our Unpreparedness for War" and Mr. John Stites on "Graft and Public Honesty." Both papers were discussed in a most interesting manner. The annual election resulted in the election of the following officers: W. T. Tandy, President; Ira L. Smith, Vice President; H. W. Linton, Secretary.

The annual banquet was set for May 8 at Hotel Latham, with the following speakers:

Toastmaster, W. T. Tandy.

"Suffragettes and Husbandettes," Ira L. Smith.

"The Bird and the Worm," Frank Rives.

"Tal Timber," Geo. E. Gary.

"The Friends of Yesterday," H. Clay Smith.

"Fads and Fancies," T. C. Underwood.

There were 24 members present.

TABERNACLE ATTRACTIONS

To Be Put On Again Next Winter, After a Long Year's Rest.

BEST COURSE EVER SECURED.

Season 1913-14 Opens in November With Guaranteed Support.

Realizing the importance of maintaining the Tabernacle and of presenting a lyceum course for the betterment of the community, the Union Tabernacle Association has agreed to accept the proposition of the Bureau and put on the best course ever attempted, provided the churches, who own the building, are willing to do their part in disposing of the tickets. The various societies of the churches have been approached and all have obligated themselves to handle the proposition.

The contract was closed and, beginning November of this year, the following attractions will be presented during the season at the Tabernacle:

International Operatic Company, who will give selections from the best of the modern popular grand opera.

Dr. Russell H. Couwell, in his world famous lecture, "Acres of Diamonds."

The Schuman Quintet, "Putting Rag-Time Out of Business," with explanation and illustrations, bringing out why classical music is classical.

Robert Parker Miles, the well-known and much sought after popular lecturer.

The Euclid Male Quartet, composed of the best male voices and having the largest set of organ chimes now in lyceum.

Sidney Lauder, in artistic character sketches, presenting the novel Yankee farmer with some of his ideas, in make-up, as well as the embarrassed minister in a predicament.

MUCH WORK

Going On Preparatory To Beautifying Virginia Park.

A great deal of work is being done in Virginia Park preparatory to beautifying it. Many walks have been laid out and trenches dug for making concrete walks, which will be rushed to completion when begun. A pergola has been put up to take the place of the old Latham grape harbor and the high stone wall along Ninth street has been taken down and will be rebuilt to comply with the stone walls fronting Campbell and Seventh streets. Trees have been put out in Peace Park, the work of grading having been completed some time since.

TEACHERS

May Have to Wait Thirty Days For Their Money.

Frankfort, Ky., April 5 — Many county superintendents attending the meeting here have made inquiries about when they are to receive their February apportionment of the state school fund, amounting to $500,000. It was explained to them that there is in the fund now $380,633.30. This last payment must be in full and the warrant cannot be met until about $125,000 more is received into the fund in the treasury. That will be probably within the next thirty days.

COSSACKS FROM RUSSIA

Many Famous Old Indian Chiefs And Warriors With The Show.

A rare treat is offered the people of Hopkinsville on April 15, when the world famous Kit Carson's Buffalo Ranch Wild West Shows will exhibit here afternoon and night. This is the one Wild West Show whose phenomenal success during the past 14 years is well deserved. Not only do they present all they advertise but much more, and after each performance every patron leaves the grounds a well satisfied person. Coming as they do on their own special trains of double-length cars, they are well equipped to carry everything needed to make their attraction rank as the world's foremost amusement enterprise. Unexcelled are their frontier features. Their cowboys and girls are culled from the very best riders and ropers of all the ranches in America. The Cossacks were imported from Russia after being selected from the Czar's finest cavalry and are without doubt the most expert horsemen in all the universe. Mexican Rurales direct from the army of Mexico add to the artistic display of fancy riding. Perhaps never again will you have the chance to see so many famous old Indian chiefs and warriors. Nearly every tribe of the noble red man is well represented in the collection of braves, squaws and papooses comprising the savage element of this, the most exemplary institution for amusement in existence.

But two performances will be given so make all arrangements in advance, be on hand and see their two mile pageant of glittering gold and silver. Hurry to the show grounds and be among the very first to gain admission, thus securing the most desirable seats, settle back comfortably and have two hours of the most excitable and agreeable entertainment ever offered the American public.—Advertisement.

FLOOD IN PICTURES

Film of Timely Interest at the Rex Theatre, Wednesday.

The motion picture camera man is here, there and everywhere. The present flood situation, in our sister states to the North, has been thoroughly covered and made ready for screen presentation. The widespread interest, aroused by the newspaper accounts of the enormous destruction of property, loss of life and the tribulations of the flood sufferers, makes this a motion picture of unusual interest and gives a striking evidence of what science and invention have done for progress. One hundred years ago the news of this disaster would have been weeks in reaching the people—ten years ago would have been hours in being typed—now, actual scenes placed before you, of destruction and havoc wrought by the raging waters, before those angry waves have subsided. Truly this is a wonderful age we live in.

Economy Begins At Home.

There is so much talk about economy and conservation today that it impresses upon us all the more forcibly that economy should begin at home. You and your neighbors can start economizing at once by forming a Larkin Club of Ten, and buying your household supplies such as Soaps, Teas, Spices, Notions, Toilet and pharmaceutical preparations, direct from Larkin Co. Dealing with them gives you just twice as much for your money as you can get at the store. You can take what you save in the form of extra household supplies, or in the form of Premium Merchandise, of which there are 1,500 to select from. You will also get a lot of enjoyment out of your Larkin Club of Ten, as the meetings can be occasions for little social gatherings, luncheons, picnics, etc. If you will write to Larkin Co., Buffalo, N. Y., and ask them for their large Catalog R 101, they will be very glad to send it to you. This Catalog describes their plan in detail.

Sample of Ingalls' Satire.

Many years ago, when Senator Ingalls was in the senate, oleomargarine was a bone of contention. The debate led Ingalls to utter one of those epigrammatic sentences which made him famous. "I have never, to my knowledge, tasted oleomargarine," said Ingalls, "but I have stood in the presence of genuine butter with awe for its strength and reverence for its antiquity."

NOT LONG TO WAIT.

Little Max was so restless and fussy when his mother took him downtown that he caused her no end of bother. Finally the mother exclaimed impatiently:

SACRIFICED.

"You ate all of your own cake and Mabel's, too, Tommie?" said the mother.

"Yes'm," replied Tommie.

ALASKA DOGS DEAR

Teams of Three or Four Canines
Bring $2,000.

They Are Used to Draw Sleds in Winter and Carts in Summer; Also Used in Mines and on Trails for Packing.

Miss Emma Leonidas Kelly, the first white woman to go down the Yukon, has qualified by many strenuous experiences in Alaska to be considered an authority on the dog teams of that country. The native animals are the malamute, the huskie and the Siwash.

The first comes from the coast of Bering sea and is a cross between the Russian terrier and the Siwash. He is small, weighing 60 to 75 pounds, and has shaggy hair, which makes him look twice his real size. Under this is a coat of short, warm fur that protects him in the most severe weather.

The huskie comes from the McKenzie river, is a large gray dog weighing from 125 to 160 pounds and is covered with short, stubby fur, with an undercoat of thick fur. They can stand more hardships and go without food longer than any other dog in the north.

The Siwash dogs, which are in the majority, are a cross between a wolf and a dog, and usually gray or white in color, but occasionally black. Their weight is from 50 to 90 pounds. They rarely sleep under shelter, preferring to curl up in the snow, even with the mercury 60 degrees below zero.

In this respect the native animals are better fitted for their work than the immigrant dogs, says Miss Kelly in Country Life in America. In severe weather the latter wear little moccasins made of heavy moose skin, while nature has provided the native dogs with heavy fur covering the whole feet, even between the toes.

The sleds in general use are 7 feet long, 17 inches wide and 7 inches high, and an immense load of freight can be packed and lashed on them. The sled is guided in the trail by a pole known as the "G" pole.

The dogs are hitched about six feet ahead of the sled, and the driver walks back of the sled, holding on to the "G" pole to keep the heavily loaded sled straight in the narrow trail so that it will not tip over on the rough, sliding places.

In case the sled is heavily loaded the dogs are hooked up close to the sled and the driver rides a greater part of the time—that is, if the weather is not too cold, in which case he prefers running to keep warm.

On the creek beds there is often from one to five inches of water, and it is always a difficult matter to make the dogs go through this. They dislike getting their feet wet, but they must keep the trail and pull through it.

Immediately after getting out of the water it begins to form in little ice balls between their toes, and the whole team of dogs will lie down on the trail in their harness and go to picking and cleaning their feet, which are rarely ever sore or frozen unless they have been in water several hours.

From the last snow in the spring until the first in the fall the dogs have but little to do. At the trading posts—Dawson, Circle City, Fairbanks, Eagle, Minook—and a number of other camps where they have fair streets or roads the dogs are used to draw light freight about in little two-wheeled carts, and they are used in the mines and on the trails for packing. The pack saddles are made of heavy canvas and the average dog will pack thirty or forty pounds.

Some dogs will lie down in the mud or water with their packs on, while others seem to feel the responsibility of protecting their packs and are exceedingly careful in picking their way through thick brush or over fallen trees that obstruct the trail, leaping over pools of mud and picking their footing with great care on the small rocks in fording the streams. They rarely bark.

The dogs are fed once a day when working; the best feed is the Yukon dried salmon, but failing this bacon has proved the best substitute.

The price of Alaskan dogs is governed by the number of stampedes during a winter, which creates a great demand for dog teams with which to reach new gold fields at an early date. At such times teams of three or four dogs have brought as high as $1,800 or $2,000, where their usual price would be about $700 or $800.

Wanted an Illustration.

A little boy was advised by his father to use illustrations in his conversation whenever they should occur to him.

"For," continued the parent, "there is no more forcible way of conveying or impressing your meaning."

Shortly after, the boy was being lectured on generosity.

"It's better to give than to receive, Johnny—far better."

"Illustrate it, papa. I think I shall understand it better."

Butter Broke Bridge.

Cornelius Westphal, fifty-seven years old, died at Falk's hotel in Cedar Grove, N. J., because three pounds of butter was too much for a bridge over Peckham river. Westphal crossed to get three pounds of butter. The bridge supported his 170 pounds, but when he returned with the butter added to his weight the timbers gave way. He was in the water several minutes and caught pneumonia, which proved fatal.

When General Braddock started out to take Fort Duquesne Washington warned him against Indian ambuscades. Braddock ignored the warning and was surprised and his army cut to pieces, Braddock himself being mortally wounded. Franklin relates, rather wickedly, that Braddock remained silent the whole day on the retreat, and that the first words he spoke were: "Who would have thought it?" Then he relapsed into silence for another day, when he again collected himself and said, "We'll know better next time," and immediately afterward died.

Took the Tall End.

The Lancashire people are fond of dogs—in fact, they're very proud of them, and therefore when a prominent dog fancier came home one night and found his son had bought a nondescript mongrel he was rather riled.

"How much didst thee gie for that dog?" he inquired.

"Five shillings," replied the son.

"Tell thee what A'll do," replied the parent. "A'll go shares w' thee. A'll gie thee half a crown for ma share."

The half crown was duly paid; then the father remarked:

ECONOMY IN CARE OF SOAP

Good Plan is to Buy a Reliable Article in Quantities, as it Improves by Keeping.

As water alone cannot render grease soluble, it is impossible to cleanse most clothes without the aid of an agent which is capable of so doing.

The cleaning and solving properties of soap are entirely due to the alkaline constituents, the fatty acids being employed only to modify the injurious properties of alkali.

When buying soap it is desirable to procure that made by a well-known reliable manufacturer, as one is less likely to get an inferior article. It is also better to buy it in large quantities, as large quantities are usually sold at a considerable reduction in price, and soap improves in quality and durability by keeping.

Soap may be used as a solid or it may be dissolved and used as a liquid; in whatever form its action is that of a grease solvent and purifying agent. It is used in the solid or hard state for strong material without color, when its strength may be concentrated by rubbing it on the particularly dirty parts, so that they may be more easily and thoroughly cleansed.

Soap powder is principally composed of soda and water, and as washing soda does not cost more than one-fifth the price of soap powder, it would be more economical for the housekeeper to use that substance with the addition of a little soap solution to the water, which would form a lather equally as well, and the work of cleansing would be as effectual as when soap powder is used.

BEST TO SHRINK MATERIALS

Saves Much Time and Worry Later, and Really Involves Only a Minimum Amount of Trouble.

Shrinking materials before making them up saves a great deal of time and worry. There will be no hems to be let down, no sleeves to lengthen or belts to widen.

When shrinking muslins or gingham place them in a pan and cover with clear, warm water, to which has been added a little salt. The salt prevents the colors from running. Allow the material to stand for a half hour, then wring it as dry as possible and hang on the line. When half dry press with a hot iron.

If you desire to shrink woolen fabrics wet a sheet and spread it over a table. Place one thickness of the goods lengthwise of the sheet and, beginning at one end, roll sheet and material together. Lay aside the roll until morning. Then unroll the goods and press with a hot iron. If it is difficult to determine the right side of the material mark it with a thread at one corner before shrinking.

Shrinking never injures the material, and it will always appear fresh and bright after pressing.

To Air a Bed.

The proper way to air a bed, if you are opposed to removing the bedclothes from the bed, is to throw the sheets over the footboard across a chair placed to keep them off the floor, and then lift the mattress in the middle, tilting it up so that the air passes under and over it. One-half hour of this will thoroughly air the bed, the windows to be open all the time, of course. In making up the bed shake the sheets well as they are put in place. You will then have a tidy, fresh bed and an orderly room soon after you are dressed. This will help make your housekeeping easy.

Tutti Frutti Tart.

Peel and cut one banana into bits, stone one cup of cherries, hull one cup of strawberries, add one cup of sugar and put the mixture in the top of the double boiler over boiling water until the sugar is melted and the juice is drawn out. Then sweeten to taste, and let it boil up directly over the fire until quite thick. Line tartlet pans with a thin, rich paste and brush over with white of egg; fill with the mixture and bake quickly.

Wheat Cakes Without Eggs.

Take a cup and a half of wheat flour and mix dry with a scant two teaspoonfuls of baking powder and a half a teaspoonful of salt. Beat in enough milk to make a soft batter. Have the griddle very hot and bake at once. Serve with butter and sirup and the cakes will be so nice the eggs will never be missed.

Floating Island.

Scald one and one-half cups milk and pour over one-fourth cup sugar mixed with two eggs. Cook in the double boiler until the mixture coats the spoon; then strain, add one-half teaspoon vanilla and a few grains salt. Beat the white of an egg stiff; drop by spoonfuls onto the custard and brown in the oven. Serve cold.

Coffee Spanish Cream.

One and one-half cups hot coffee, one-half cup milk, one tablespoon granulated gelatine, two-thirds cup sugar, pinch of salt, yolk of two eggs. Cook like a soft custard. When a little cool add the beaten whites of the eggs and one-half teaspoon of vanilla.

Hominy Cakes.

Two cups of cold, boiled hominy, one cup of flour, one quart of milk, three well beaten eggs, one teaspoon of salt. Mix thoroughly and bake at once.

New Way to Serve Peas.

Heat a can of peas, and while heating stir in a tablespoonful of beef extract. It is delicious.

STEADFAST CONFIDENCE

The Following Statement Should Form Conclusive Proof of Merit to Every Hopkinsville Reader.

Could stronger proof of the merit of any remedy be desired than the statements of grateful endorsers who say their confidence has been undiminished by lapse of time? These are the kind of statements that are appearing constantly in your local papers for Doan's Kidney Pills. They are twice-told and confirmed with new enthusiasm. Can any reader doubt the following? It's from a resident of this locality.

Perry McCulley, Earlington, Ky., says: "You are at liberty to continue using my endorsement of Doan's Kidney Pills as heretofore. Whenever I have had occasion to use them I have been benefited. I feel that I am doing nothing more than my publicly recommending this preparation. Doan's Kidney Pills restored my kidneys to their normal condition, regulated the kidney action and removed the pains in my back, in fact improved my health. I obtained this remedy and have certainly been pleased with the results of its use."

WHEN JUDGES TOOK GIFTS.

The removal of a judge from office in the United States reminds us that centuries ago justice was not administered nearly so impartially as it is now. Putting aside the classic instance of Lord Chancellor Bacon, one recalls the "basket justices" who received their nickname from the gifts openly handed up to them in court by suitors. And in more recent times there were the "trading justices" satirized by Fielding in "Amelia."—London Chronicle.

The Love Letters of a Confederate General

WE begin in the November issue a series of real love-letters written over fifty years ago by one of our national heroes to his sweetheart during the period of '61 to '65. This great general will go down to posterity as having accomplished one of the most brilliant feats of arms in the history of the world. He was as great a lover as he was a general, therefore these letters combine authentic history and exquisite romance. They sound a human note that no other work of literature has done in a decade; it is war, it is romance, it is history, it is literature. You simply can't afford to miss this wonderful series—an inside story of the Civil War now published for the first time and containing all the freshness of a contemporary happening. These letters will grip you hard, and hold your interest from first to last. Fill out the coupon and send it now before you forget it.

$100 Reward, $100

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

W. B. M. convention during the Bible school meeting.

Winter Lingering.

Last Friday night we had a heavy frost, but if it is the last we are to have, those who have examined peach tree blossoms say that there is yet a prospect of a good peach crop. Apple trees are not in danger yet. There may be a killing frost by the 14th, which is generally considered the limit for "winter lingering in the lap of spring." It has been five or more years since we had any peaches worth talking about.

BANISH WORRY AND BE HAPPY

Evil Habit Shortens Life and Drives
All the Sunshine Out of Possibly Happy Days.

The worries of today are the jokes of tomorrow. Look over your past life. What are the incidents that you find funny now? Every one of them was a worry at the time it happened. You laugh as you look back at past worries. Well, why not laugh at the worries today and tomorrow as well?

Worry doesn't get you anything or anywhere. There's no use worrying about things that are past. Whatever has happened is right or it would not have happened. The whole great universe is run in harmony. Don't be concerned enough to suppose that anything you have done is out of harmony with the universe. If it was, the whole world would soon get out of kilter.

There's no use worrying, either, about what's going to happen. Nobody knows that. Remember, too, the worst never happens. And why worry now? You either can help or can't help what you are worrying about. If you can help it, go ahead and do it and stop worrying. If you can't help it, what good does worrying do?

"But," you say, "I just can't help worrying." How absurd? Of course you can. Try this plan. Sit down calmly and ask yourself what is the very worst result that can come from your present trouble. Look it in the face boldly. Square your shoulders and say to yourself: "Well, if that's all, I can face that. Lots of worse things have happened to millions of other people and they have survived. I guess I can."

Most worries are over mere trifles. Probably George Washington's wife used to worry when he got home late for dinner, but what difference does it make to either of them now?

Get a Worry Book. Put down in it today everything that worries you. Look at it a week from today. How many of the things you are worrying about will happen? The longer you keep a worry book the shorter will grow the entries.—American Magazine.

Land of Many Languages.

One probable result of the scheme attributed to the Archduke Franz Ferdinand for the constitution of a Slav empire under the crown of the Hapsburgs would be the abolition of German as the official language of the Austrian army. In the army German, Bohemian, Polish, Ruthenian, Hungarian, Slovene, Serbian, Italian and Roumanian are spoken. In every regiment, of whatever nationality, the words of command are given in German. Apart from the words of command, however, a knowledge of German is not required from the rank and file. All the ordinary business of a regiment is done in the language of the men and it is the duty of the officers to acquire a working knowledge of this "regimental speech," as it is called.

Wanted Change in Literary Diet.

Child wit, as necessity, knows neither law nor national restriction. Indeed, children the world over are much alike in the naivete and unexpected humor of their remarks and replies. From rural England, for example, comes the quaintly moving tale of the two small youngsters who longed for novelty even in matters of religion.

It was Sunday afternoon and, secular literature being forbidden on that day, a kindly visitor offered to read aloud from the Bible.

"It's very kind of you, Auntie May," the little girl replied, with polite hesitation, "but—would you mind reading something that isn't in Genesis? We're so tired of the Adams family and their works."

After listening patiently to a long tale of intemperance, Judge Marsh remarked to the defendant:

"If what your wife says is true, I should imagine you to be a rather bibulous person."

"Bibulous!" snorted the old woman. "Bibulous! Ah beg yo' pabdon, suh, but dat niggah doan know no mo' 'bout de Bible dan mah sistah's cat's tail—an' what's mo' ah ain't got no sistah."

SPELLING BEE TO BE REVIVED

Mrs. Preston, Superintendent of Schools in Washington, Favors
the Old-Time Institution.

The old-fashioned spelling bee is to prevail in the state of Washington. Mrs. Josephine Corliss Preston of Walla Walla has been elected state superintendent of schools, and she says the bee must be made a state institution, that all the children may be taught to spell the words correctly. She has observed that the bee has worked out reform as to spelling in Walla Walla county.

As the spelling bee is distinctive because of its spirit of contest, like the sports, it may be possible that instructors will wake up by and by that the way to get the children interested in many other studies is to have them contest with others. The bee does not make the speller. That comes natural to some and may be acquired by others in more or less perfection by hard work with the words.

Almost all human creatures have some pride and more or less disposition to show off. That is how the spelling bee wins and makes the young people study harder to make a fair showing with others in competition. It is not so easy to make a contest in mathematics, which can be carried out in an entertaining way before an audience, but it is not impossible. Neither is a contest in grammatical construction of sentences, or in history and geography.

Any of these reduced to the live spirit of contention for the best demonstration among the pupils of a city or several cities would make the schools worth more, take more of the attention of the pupils and bring about better results. That is what makes the boys like the sports, and the girls also. There is life in it. Try it in more than spelling!—Worcester Telegram.

GOT THE DIET HE PREFERRED

Chain Could Not Keep Smart Fox
From Capturing and Eating His Owner's Fat Chickens.

A Mr. Nelson, a farmer of Pennsylvania, owned a fine flock of chickens which, to his alarm, he found diminishing in number, with every evidence of guilt point to his own pet fox. The animal was kept chained and was never discovered to have broken loose. Mr. Nelson set himself in hiding to see how the trick was done. When the fox was fed, instead of eating, he would nose the food just the length of his chain, then retire to his kennel. Presently a bunch of chickens would wander by and get busy—all in good reach of the watching Br'er Fox, who would spring forth to luxuriate in fresh, raw, juicy chicken instead of the cold, cooked, uncomfortable meal shoved at him with a stick.

Rival Ananias.

On the occasion of one of his public speeches in Wales, Mr. Lloyd-George was introduced to the assemblage by a Welsh deacon. The chancellor is fond of repeating the graceful words of the introduction.

"Gentlemen," said the deacon, "I have to introduce to you tonight the member for Carnarvon boroughs. He has come here to reply to what the bishop of St. Asaph said about the Welsh disestablishment. . . . In my opinion, gentlemen, the bishop of St. Asaph is one of the biggest liars in creation; but, thank God, we have a match for him tonight!"—Youth's Companion.

Why
"IFORM" LENSES
Are Better

It is one of the laws of physics that if we look straight through (perpendicular to the surface) any transparent substance—such as glass—the rays of light will proceed direct, but if we look at an angle to the surface—the rays of light are bent (refracted) from their straight course. Therefore, with the ordinary FLAT lens, there is only one position, the center, that gives perfect vision. With my "IFORM" LENS, no matter whether you look straight ahead, at one side, up or down, you are looking through the lens perpendicularly to the surface, and get as clear vision at the edge as through the center.

THE THRICE-A-WEEK EDITION OF THE NEW YORK WORLD

Practically a Daily at the price of a Weekly.

No Other Newspaper in the World Gives So Much at So Low a Price.

This is a time of great events and you will want the news accurately and promptly. The Democrats, for the first time in sixteen years, will have the Presidency and they will have the Presidency and they will also control both branches of Congress. The political news is sure to be of the most absorbing interest.

There is a great war in the Old World, and you may read of the extinction of the vast Turkish Empire in Europe, just as a few years ago you read how Spain lost her last foot of soil in America, after having ruled the empire of half the New World.

The World long since established a record for impartiality, and anybody can afford its Thrice-a-Week edition, which comes every other day in the week, except Sunday. It will be of particular value to you now. The Thrice-a-Week World also abounds in other strong features, serial stories, humor, markets, cartoons; in fact, everything that is to be found in a first class daily.

THE THRICE-A-WEEK WORLD'S regular subscription price is only $1.00 per year, and this pays for 156 papers. We offer this unequalled newspaper and the Hopkinsville Kentuckian together for one year for $2.65.

The regular subscription price of the two papers is $3.00.

Rosy As A Girl.

Summit, N. C.—In a letter received from this place, Mr. J. W. Church, the notary public, says: "My wife had been ailing for nearly 12 years, from female ailments, and at times, was unable to leave the house. She suffered agony with her side and back. We tried physicians for years, without relief. After these treatments all failed, she took Cardui, and gained in weight at once. Now she is red and rosy as a school girl." Cardui, as a tonic for women, has brought remarkable results. It relieves pain and misery and is the ideal tonic for young and old. Try it. At all druggists. Advertisement.

SIMPLE LESSON IN POLITICS

Woman Doesn't See Necessity of Learning Hard Words When Marching Answers Purpose.

"Charley, dear," said young Mrs. Torkins, "I'm going to be a suffragette and march in a parade."
"You are, eh?"
"Yes. I feel it my duty to show an active interest in politics."
"I see. Well, what are your views on schedule K of the tariff?"
"That's not politics. That's the alphabet."
"Well, how about direct primaries or the initiative and referendum?"
"Oh, I never pretended to know much Latin."
"How about banking and finance?"
"Why—they seem all right, don't they?"
"You see!" he shouted, triumphant, "you don't know a thing about the subjects are being discussed."
"Well, Charley, dear, you mean well, of course. But I must say that it seems very stupid and silly of you to learn all those hard words and puzzle over problems to show your interest in politics when we can do so simply by marching in a parade."—Washington Star.

And proper way.
"Do you believe what the German army officer says, that tightening one's belt will alleviate the pangs of hunger?"
"Certainly, if the belt is tightened in the proper manner."
"Is there more than one way to tighten a belt?"
"Certainly. One way is to pull it up two or three holes, thus shortening it, and—"
"That was the way I was thinking of."
"But the way to so tighten it as to alleviate the pangs of hunger is to cram the stomach full of food, thus distending the walls of the stomach and tightening the belt automatically."

Pretty Girls and Plain Men.
When a pretty woman marries a plain man it is not because she pities him. A woman loves a man because of his strength. His determination appeals to her, and wins her in the end, though she may not have been attracted to him in the beginning. Firmness compels a woman's admiration and respect, and that is the first step to love.

Wisdom of Childhood.
The following composition on men is credited to a little girl: "Men are what women marry. They drink and smoke and swear, but don't go to church. Perhaps if they wore bonnets they would. They are more logical than women and also more zoological. Both men and women sprung from monkeys, but the women sprung further than the men."

HERITAGE OF THE LONG PAST

Groundless Worries With Which Women Are So Prone to Be Afflicted Are Thus Explained.

Worry is a habit, and it is one to which womankind is especially prone. Possibly it is an inherited trait—handed down to us by our ancestors of medieval times, who could do nothing but sit by the fire and spin—or else work miracles of art at their tapestry frames—while men folk were away fighting or hunting, and in either case carrying their lives in their hands.

Those old-time Marianas, immersed in their moated granges, weaving romances with their needles, could not well help laying up for their hapless descendants a heritage of overstrung nerves and vague, groundless fears.

Life was not very full or very interesting for women folk in those days. A maiden's destiny led her either to the altar or the cloister, and in either case her future was bounded by impassable walls. If she married her sun rose and set in her husband; if she became a nun her hopes, finding no outlet in this world centered themselves in the world to come.—Exchange.

For Burns, Bruises and Sores.

The quick and sure cure for burns, bruises, boils, sores, inflammation and all skin diseases is Bucklen's Arnica Salve. In four days it cured L. H. Haffin, of Irvin, Tex., of a sore on his ankle which pained him so he could hardly walk. Should be in every house. Only 25c. Recommended by All Druggists. Advertisement.

NOT THE COMMENT EXPECTED.

In Lord Rossmore's recently published "Things I Can Tell" he gives this story at the expense of Mr. Gladstone and the home-rule agitation: "The subject of home rule always reminds me of the day when old Gladstone sat down and Mrs. Gladstone made a speech on the hustings. Said she, addressing the throng, 'My friends, I found it very hard to convince my dear husband about the claims of Ireland for home rule, but one day when he came into the breakfast room he remarked to me, "My dear wife" you've overpersuaded me about that downtrodden country. You have at last converted me in favor of home rule." I got up from my chair, put my arms round his neck and gave him a loving wifely kiss.' She paused to see what effect her words had produced and an irrepressible Irishman called out, 'And it served the owl beggar perfectly right.'"

Many ills come from impure blood. Can't have pure blood with faulty digestion, lazy liver and sluggish bowels. Burdock Blood Bitters is recommended for strengthening stomach, bowels and liver and purifying the blood. Advertisement.

Courage Makes Success.
Many a man has dried up in a little wayside opportunity, merely because he lacked the courage to acknowledge to himself that his judgment had landed him in the wrong spot. Fortune disdains mere ability—brain is nothing without bravery. The man who can be thrashed by a sneer has retreated before he is defeated.—Herbert Kaufman.

Rabbits Cause Immense Loss.
Observant and experienced men compute that eight or ten rabbits eat or destroy as much grass as one sheep. As there are so many millions of rabbits in Australia, the loss in the carrying capacity of the country is appalling. The pest in New South Wales is spreading, notwithstanding all that is being done in the shape of trapping, poisoning, fumigating, and digging out.

PROVERBS FROM FAR JAPAN

Subjects of the Mikado Know Well
How to Put Much Wisdom Into Short Sentences.

Though Japan is the youngest of the world powers, it is second to none in national spirit and commercial enterprise; nor in courteous conduct, personal cleanliness or love of home and country are its indomitable people excelled by those of any other nation. These characteristics of the subjects of the mikado indicate that they are people of high ideals, and it is in a nation's proverbs that its ideals frequently find expression.

Many of the national proverbs of Japan were collected and translated several years ago by Ota Masayo-shi, and were published under the title of "Japanese Proverbs." It is from this entertaining little volume that the following are taken:

Patience is the rope of advancement in all lines of life.

The ignorant are never defeated in any argument.

It is more easy to evade the trouble which heaven sends us than that which we bring upon ourselves.

If the water be too pure, fish cannot live in it; if people be too exacting, fellow beings cannot stand beside them.

Where there are no birds, the bat will be king.

The mind is clear, even in a dark room there will be radiance; if the thought is dark, at noonday there will be demons.

Be not lenient to your own faults;
keep your pardon for others.

When the sense of shame is lost, advancement ceases.

Genius hears one individual and then comprehends ten.

Negligence looks at the battle field,
then makes its arrows.

Seeking information is a moment's shame; but not to learn is surely a lasting shame.

A woman without jealousy is like a ball without elasticity.

Unless blind and deaf, one cannot be impartial.

In trying to straighten her horns
the cow was killed.—Life.

New Sword for the Army.

"Strange as it may seem," said Lieut.
Colonel G. T. Thompson, ordnance expert of the army, "we are now adopting some of the ideas of the bu-caneers in our plans for a new saber to be issued to the army. It is to have a metal basket guard, which completely covers the hands and protects it from the attack of the enemy."

"A picture of the new saber would give the average civilian the impression that the war department is about to issue to the army swords like those which were carried by Sir Francis Drake and his men centuries ago. Civilian experts, who have inspected our new saber, have pronounced it the most perfect piece of equipment that has ever been issued to an army."

"It is a thrusting sword. Instead of a cutting sword. The handle is so shaped as to give the soldier great thrusting power. Swordsmen have demonstrated that a soldier who depends on a thrust to vanquish an enemy is more dangerous than one who attempts to cut his enemy down.
In a fencing bout no expert sword-man attempts to put out his opponent by raising his sword for a cut, as his opponent would finish him with a thrust before he could bring down his sword."

"The new saber of the army will have a straight blade and will be as delicately balanced as the sword of a professional broad swordsman."

Glacial Epochs Explained.

What caused the glacial epochs? An explanation was propounded by Prof.
W. J. Humphreys of the weather bureau at the Cleveland meeting of the Astronomical and Astrophysical Society of America. Several times in recent years it has been observed that great explosive volcanic eruptions (Krakatoa, Pele, Katmai), by charging the upper atmosphere, in the iso-thermal region, with fine dust, have markedly diminished the amount of solar radiation received at the earth's surface. It seems evident that the effect of this process must be to reduce the temperature of the air near the earth, since the dust scatters a great amount of the solar radiation.
Thus a period of excessive volcanic activity, if long continued, would produce the thermal conditions of an ice age. The geological record is said to furnish evidence that such a period actually began shortly before the last ice age and has continued with diminishing intensity to the present time.

Diplomas for Hotel Men.

Certain hotel men in Los Angeles are talking of establishing an academy to teach the science of hotel keeping, which will confer degrees and diplomas on students from porter to proprietor. This is a novel idea, although no novelist ever thought of putting it in a novel. Courses will be needed in detection of deadbeats, recognition of old friends and all that. Special attention should be given to teaching how to keep a hotel which will suit every patron. The project certainly has a wide field in which to disport itself.

Into Jail With Wrong Trousers.

In his plea to the Trenton (N. J.)
court of pardons for a parole, Robert McIlroy claims that he got up in the morning by mistake and put on the wrong pair of trousers. Not until he was placed under arrest later in the day did he know that the pockets contained $70 in cash and a watch, and that they were a fellow-boarder's. Mc-Ilroy is serving one year at the workhouse for grand larceny.

Not A Day In Bed

Gramling, S. C.—In a letter from Gramling, Mrs. Lula Walden says:
"I was so weak before I began taking Cardui, that it tired me to walk just a little. Since taking it, I do all the housework for my family of nine, and have not been in bed a day. Cardui is the greatest remedy for women, on earth." Weak women need Cardui. It is the ideal women's tonic, because it is especially adapted for women's needs. It relieves backache, headache, dragging feelings, and other female misery.
Try Cardui. A few doses will show you what it can do for you. It may be just what you want.

Chickens Lack Originality.

Abby, the littlest girl of the family, was seated at the breakfast table one morning. As usual, eggs were served.
Either she was not hungry or she had grown tired of the inevitable bill of fare, for very earnestly and soberly she remarked: "I do wish hens would lay something besides eggs."

REALLY DESERVED THE RAISE

Manufacturer's Secretary Found Leak
in Business, and the Reward Was Forthcoming.

A Cleveland manufacturer hired a private secretary not many months ago. He had never had one before, but he thought he could afford the luxury. And luxury it was, for the young man found little to do. One day, however, a real job came his way.

"Smith," said his employer, "I want you to figure out for me how we can cut down office expenses. I've been over the whole thing carefully, but I can't find out where we are spending any money unnecessarily.
But still it's a bit too much. If you'll find out where we can save $50 a month I'll add the amount to your salary."

The secretary figured for an hour or two and then announced that he was ready to report.

"Have you found the leak?" asked the manufacturer.

"Yes, sir."

"Good boy! Let's hear it."

"You pay $50 for a private secretary, and then you do all the work yourself. You have absolutely no use for a private secretary. If you'd get rid of me you'd save that $50 a month."

"That's so. But you're knocking yourself out of a job."

"No, I'm not. You've promised a raise of $50 for showing you."
He got the raise.

SAME RESULT

"Before we were married you used to buy me such costly presents."

"And now you buy them and have them charged to me."

NEW DUST LAYER.

The highway department of the city of Leeds, England, has recently treated part of a macadam roadway with granular calcium chloride to combat the dust. Solutions of the latter had previously been tried at greater cost and without such satisfactory results. The road is first well swept and two applications of the chloride are made on the succeeding evening of about one-half pound a yard.

DISCOVERY.

Bacon—I see to deceive the unauthorized, safes are built to resemble sideboards, tabourets and other articles of furniture.

Egbert—But when one of the unauthorized has carried one about six blocks he comes to the conclusion that the thing is really not a tabouret or other article of furniture.

GOING TO HIS SHRINE.

"Good evening, my young friend," said Rev. Mr. Tidbits to a young man who was passing by, "do you ever attend a place of worship?"

"Yes, indeed, sir," was the answer, "every Sunday night, and I'm on my way to see her now."—Said and Done.

IN THE CLASS.

"Why were Pharaoh and all his army drowned?"

"I guess it was because none of them could swim."

NATURAL GROUNDS.

"Why is it that so many people believe in investing in real estate?"

"I don't know, but it is a belief that is gaining grounds."

HE MEANT WELL.

Fond Father—Well, we have a new baby at our house.

Motor Enthusiast (absently)—
What horse power?—Puck.

ACCOUNTED FOR.

"And he is one of the most economical of men."

"I wondered why he was so unpopular."

THREE THINGS YOU NEED..

"Kentuckian"

First—While, every newspaper with the interest of the entire community at heart. Issues of the Kentuckian are printed without fear or favor. You will find in this paper an up-to-date department for the entertainment of the family. Clean, honest, straightforward—it is a paper your family cannot do without.

Technical World Magazine

Second—This is the magazine that not only entertains in a fascinating manner, but which also instructs. It is the magazine for the busy business man, or for the person who wants to fill away a summer's afternoon, and be agreeably informed at the same time. It is a magazine that is sold in a simple and interesting way of the discovery of scientists, the achievements of inventors, the feats of engineers and explorers, and the coming of every new field of human endeavor. What Jack London says: "I have just changed upon my first copy of TECHNICAL WORLD MAGAZINE. There isn't anything like it. I wish more, and I cannot wait for them to come, so I am sending you a check for which please enter my subscription and send me immediately the last two years' back numbers."

A Fine Atlas

Third—This one is just off the presses. This is the year to obtain a new atlas. The 1910 Census has just been completed, this atlas contains the official figures. 13 pages of color maps brought right down to date—every map giving the results of the most recent surveys. All railroads are shown and named and maps of all large cities are included. There are 21 double page maps showing in detail portions of the U. S. and Canada. Dimensions 10 1/2 x 15 1/2. Bound in cloth. Printed on heavy paper. Sells regularly for $4.00. A splendid gift.

ALL THREE
Only $3.80

Special arrangement with Technical World Magazine and the publishers of this Atlas make this offer possible. But it is very strictly limited. You must act immediately.

$50,000 A YEAR SQUANDERED???

"Teachers to Teach Teachers to Teach" Needed Today.

HEARD AT COUNTRY STORE.

Two Old Timers Express Their Views on Up to Date Educational Methods and Expenses of State Normal School. "Old Fashioned" Training No Longer "Good Enough."

"Say, did you ever notice how easy it is to spend the state's money? That school, the one they call the normal school, uses about $50,000 a year, I hear. That $50,000 is for just the normal school in this end of the state too."

"Mighty different when we were boys, Bill. We didn't have to have teachers to teach teachers to teach!"

The two old codgers in front of the country store shook their heads sadly over the follies and the extravagances of the present day. A young man who had been industriously whittling a stick and listening attentively at the same time laughed, and then asked, "How much of the $50,000 does this county pay?"

"I dunno," answered one of the men. "Well, I do," snapped the youth. "A little less than $700, that's all."

"Well, what do we get back for it? An' what do the other counties in the state get for what money they put in?"

"You get a number of trained teachers, and so do the other counties in the state."

"We don't need 'em. The ol' fashioned kind are good enough."

"Hold on a moment! Think! When you men were boys a bright youngster could go into any doctor's office for a couple of years, then hang out his shingle and practice medicine. He did the best he could, but you wouldn't think of having that sort of physician for your family today."

"I'd like to know what that's got to do with teachin' school."

"Just this—that your ideas about school and teaching are about fifty years behind the times. If you must have a trained man to look after your child's body you certainly must have a trained man or woman to look after the child's mind."

"I get mighty tired of you youngsters with all your newfangled ideas for spending money. I tell you what, you're tryin' to do things too fast."

"There!" snapped the young man again. "I told you you didn't stop to think. Two years ago in front of this very store I heard both of you cussin' the Boys' Corn club movement. You said that nobody could possibly grow 100 bushels of corn on an acre of land in this neighborhood or in the state of Kentucky for that matter."

"Well?"

"In this state during the past summer fifty-six boys, boys in the country schools, boys yet under eighteen, grew 100 bushels or much better. Do you two men know that this movement has been handled by the very school you are fussing about? Four thousand boys in this state grew an acre of corn apiece in the Boys' Corn club contest. I'd be willing to bet that each one of the 4,000 earned $10 more than he would have earned if there hadn't been any Boys' Corn clubs in the state, wouldn't he?"

"I reckon so."

"Well, then, 4,000 boys earning $10 each makes $40,000 of that $50,000 the state is spending on that school, don't it? Seems to me as if it was a rather good investment for the state if it does happen to be newfangled."

Bob Taylor Lives,

In the two bright and beautiful books just issued, "Lectures and Best Literary Productions," and "Life and Career" of Senator Robert Love Taylor, handsomely illustrated, you cannot hear again his voice or see the humorous curl of his lips, that convulsed a continent with laughter, but, within the covers of these volumes, are the pictures woven of his wondrous words, and, laughing through their sunny pages, are all of the inimitable stories which he told to the multitudes. In "Life and Career," pens of genius have traced his romantic life from its morning in "Happy Valley," through his young and roseate dreams, through stress and storm, through cheering throngs, and on into the waiting shadows, loved and laurel crowned.

We expect to sell millions of these books. First edition going fast.
